

Katie Shay
Cisco
Washington, D.C.

Katie serves as Privacy Counsel for Cisco, advising the company on privacy risks and mitigation strategies across its global business. Prior to joining Cisco, Katie managed initiatives aimed at respecting and promoting privacy and free expression at Yahoo/Oath. Katie started her business and human rights career at the International Corporate Accountability Roundtable (ICAR), where she led policy development and rights-based advocacy initiatives in the area of business & human rights with particular focus on access to effective remedies for victims of human rights violations.

Katie earned her J.D. from the Georgetown University Law Center and her B.A. from Marquette University.